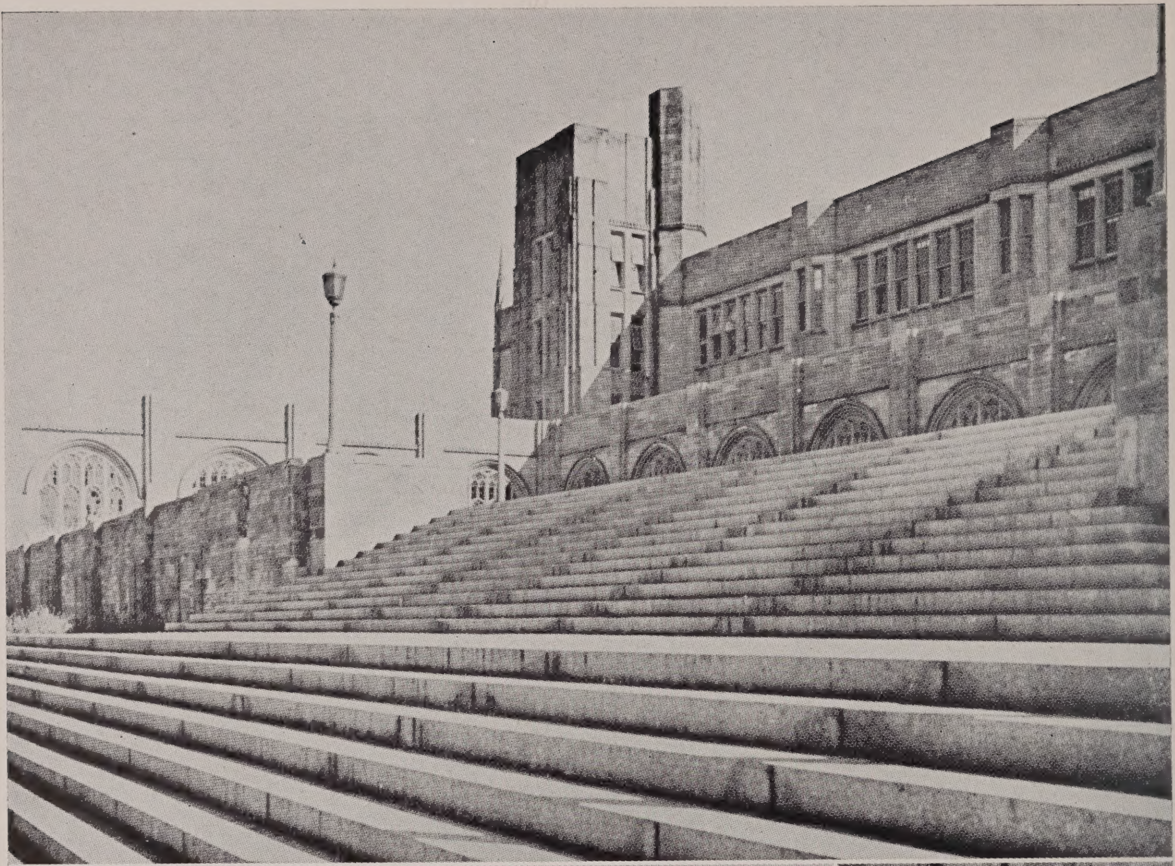
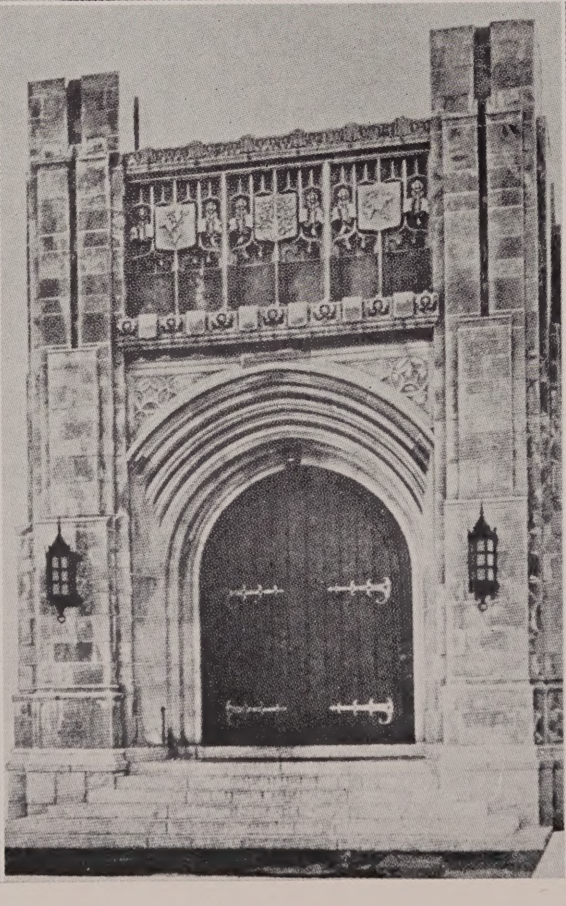
The Senior Class of 1952 presents Volume XXIV of the Gothic

[illegible] G. Anderson
'52





Foreword

Graduation Day in college is often called Commencement Day to signify that the period of preparation has ended, and that life's work is about to begin.

In many respects Graduation Day in high school closely resembles that in college. Most certainly it marks a milestone in the lives of the new graduates. For many it means that they are ready to begin a period of study in an institution of higher learning. Yet for others it means that they have finished their formal education and are about to identify themselves with some mercantile or industrial establishment.

On you, the members of the Class of 1952, has devolved the serious task of choosing the work or profession in which you intend to engage. Whatever your choice may be, your Head Master sincerely wishes that you may find both happiness and success on the road which lies ahead.

In realizing your aspirations may you ever reflect credit on yourself, your family, and your beloved Brighton High School!

President's Message

At this, our time of departure from the Gothic halls of our Alma Mater, we face the uncertainty of the future with conflicting emotions. Sorrow fills our hearts at the thought of leaving the peace and tranquillity we have known during the past three years, yet a certain feeling of joy pervades our being at the remembrance of a task well done, the completion of our high school career.

Constantly underlying our academic program, three qualities have been instilled in us by the precepts and example of our teachers:

COURAGE to face an uncertain future without flinching in the face of its threats and dangers;

LOYALTY to the ideals we have been brought up to respect and work for, in spite of the temptation to deviate from them either through weakness or for the sake of gain;

FAITH in the inherent goodness and nobility of man, no matter how far his fate may have driven him, faith that by dint of courage, loyalty, and hard work our future will have an encouraging meaning to it, and most of all faith in God, that He will see fit to deliver the world from its present turmoil into a new era of peace.

President	JANE KISSLING
Vice-President	JOAN WALDMAN
Secretary	LILLIAN MARINO
Treasurer	PRISCILLA SAWYER

The Reading Club under the able guidance of Miss Bailey and Miss Marshall had a successful and enjoyable year. Plays were performed; essays, poems, and short stories read at the meetings which were held on the third Tuesday of each month. Outings to famous Massachusetts landmarks were enjoyed by all the members. Special parties were held at Christmas and other holidays, with the highlight of the year coming on Junior Day when prospective members for the next year were entertained. Any junior girl who was an honor student in English is eligible for membership in her senior year. The 1952 members sincerely hope that future Reading Clubs will have as enthusiastic a group and as memorable a year as we have had.

The Music Appreciation Club

President	MYRA WEGMAN

Treasurer	MYRA SHAPIRO

Under the able supervision of Miss Miller and Miss Adams, the Music Appreciation Club enjoyed a very successful year.

Guided by the officers, the members endeavored to acquire a better understanding and a fuller appreciation of classical and popular music. Throughout the year the members listened to various records ranging from opera to musical comedy. Talented members, too, provided vocal and instrumental numbers.

At the end of a very profitable year, all agreed that the programs had raised the cultural level of the group and that all will go through life "with a song their hearts."

Der Deutsche Klub war erfolgreich im Jahre 1951-52 durch die besonders gute Mitarbeit der Mitglieder mit den Komitees und wegen der ausgezeichneten Ratschlaege seines Fakultaetsberaters, Frl. O'Brien.

Die Sitzungen zeigten uns das kulturelle Leben Deutschlands, seine Kunst, Literatur, Musik und erzieherischen Beitraege fuer die Welt. Das Mitgliedsgeld wurde verwendet um ein Buch fuer die Schulbibliothek zu kaufen, Ausserdem, wurde ein "CARE" Paket nach Deutschland geschickt.

Wir hoffen, dass die zukuenftigen Deutschen Klubs ebenso erfolgreich sein werden, wie unser Klub dieses Jahr gewesen ist.

The Glee Club

President	DOROTHY DEAN
Vice-President	MARY LEONE
Librarian	SYLVIA KAROL
Secretary-Treasurer	MARY LOU HALLERAN

Under the able direction of Mr. T. Francis Burke, the Glee Club participated in many fine performances during the course of the year. Composed entirely of girls ranging from sophomores to seniors, the Glee Club rehearsed diligently each week and achieved in their songs a harmonious blending of tones.

Thanksgiving, Christmas, Washington and Lincoln assemblies, and the Talent Show were but a few of the many occasions at which the student body enjoyed the selections offered by the Glee Club.

As the last strains echo from this year's senior group, the graduating seniors extend their best wishes to the future Brighton High School choristers.

The Student Council

President	CAROL PINEO
Vice-President	BERNICE BLOOM
Secretary	JOHN HOLMES
Treasurer	JOAN AHEARN

The Student Council, a group composed of representatives of all the home rooms in the school, is the voice of the Brighton High School student body. It is under the competent guidance of Miss Barbara Wilson.

Each year various projects of benefit to the entire student body are sponsored by the Council School. Pins are designed, and handbooks are compiled, both of which are sold to the students. The Council also provides the means of distributing varsity letters to the athletic teams.

The feature event every year, however, is the Council's sponsorship of the Talent Show. This year, as in the past, Mr. T. Francis Burke directed the show, which was a tremendous success, dramatically and financially.

As the seniors of the council leave, they hope that future Councils will be as successful and will work as harmoniously as has the Council of 1952.

This year a Radio Club was formed under the direction of Mr. Lewis. Its activities were the study of electronics, radio, and Morse code.

The Radio Club met once a week on Tuesday, and the members chose the subject for discussion. Practical demonstrations and experiments produced information that will be extremely useful to those members who plan advanced study in the field of science.

The Club has a constitution in F.C.C. (Federal Communications Commission) at Washington, D. C.

Brighton Towers

This year many new features were introduced in the Towers, features which proved to be of great interest to everyone. In order to have every class represented, we devoted one specific issue to each of the undergraduate classes and two issues to the class of '52. In the baby picture contests and Letters to the Editor column everyone took an active interest. Deadlines came with material still needed, proof reading and censoring were toiled over, mistakes were corrected, and each issue of the Towers came forth after many struggling, but in the end worthwhile moments in our Towers office. The entire staff is grateful for the helpful, inspiring, and patient guidance afforded us by Miss Marshall in all our periods of worry, anger, and happiness. The number of subscribers was exceptionally high, thus enabling us to have many things which it would have been impossible to obtain without the needed financial support. We of the staff strove to make the 1951-1952 Towers a credit to the class of '52, a magazine to be enjoyed and remembered by everyone.

Under the skillful guidance of Mr. Trongone, the B.H.S. orchestra has had a most successful year. As in the past, the orchestra played for such special occasions as the Christmas Assembly, the Senior Play, and Class Day.

Once a week, on Thursday, the orchestra, with Mr. Gibbons as faculty adviser, met for rehearsal in the school library. The members practiced long and faithfully as they felt that their success was to be achieved only through full co-operation.

The members of the orchestra extend their sincere good wishes to future B.H.S. musicians.

One of the finest drum and bugle corps was produced at Brighton High School this year. The addition of a new group of sophomores to the corps brings increased talent as many of the new members are extremely proficient musicians.

Marching in the schoolboy parade, the Brighton corps ranked high in the competition for drum and bugle corps honors throughout the city.

As the year comes to an end, the members of the "D and B" wish to thank their instructors, Mr. Latham, Mr. McDonald, Mr. Dowell, and Mr. Gardner for their fine assistance and fervently hope that future corps will carry the standard of Brighton High School as high as the drum and bugle corps of 1952.

To maintain the high standards of previous years has been the successful aim of this year's band. The members have trained rigorously to become a credit to Brighton High School, and to aid the cadet corps in the prize drill and schoolboy Parade competitions. Instructed by Mr. Lewis, Mr. Gardner, and Mr. Sordillo, the band developed great facility in playing stirring, resonant marches.

Brighton High School Patrol

Thirteen years ago, our Head Master, Mr. Joseph A. Leary, who was then head of the mathematics department, initiated the Brighton High School Patrol for student cooperation in the lunchroom.

Since then, Mr. Dowell and Mr. Fickett have taken charge of the organization. Under their watchful eyes the Patrol has functioned with a high degree of effectiveness.

Members of the Patrol must be in the cooperative course and possess a superior sense of responsibility. Upon them devolves the duty of creating conditions conducive to a pleasant period in the lunchroom.

As the year comes to an end, the student body pays tribute to the members of 110-A and 110-B for the excellent manner in which they discharged their duties, and to Mr. Dowell and Mr. Fickett, who taught the boys good leadership and excellent discipline.

The Brighton High School Patrol sincerely hopes that in years to come all Patrols will maintain the high standards that the 1952 Patrol established.

The Key Club

Sponsored by the Brighton-Allston Kiwanis Club, the Key Club of Brighton High is now in its fifth year. The group has been very active and has completed many projects under the able leadership of Mr. Thomas O'Keeffe, faculty adviser.

One of the new activities this year was the giving of a Christmas Party, which was held in Roxbury at the Cooper Community Home for Under-privileged Children. There our members proved themselves genial hosts.

To future Key Club members, the seniors wish continued success.

Military Drill

The cadets of Brighton High School really sparkled in all the competitions this year. Ably instructed and drilled by Major William F. Sullivan, they practiced enthusiastically for the two big events of the year, prize drill and the schoolboy parade. To stimulate a quest for perfection in drill technique, friendly rivalry was encouraged among the companies.

Finally came the two events at which the cadets could give a public demonstration of their skill. Justifying the confidence reposed in them, they acquitted themselves with a distinction that reflected credit on themselves and brought new laurels to Brighton High School.

Senior Play

"CRIME PHOTOGRAPHER"

Having selected from a superabundance of talent the actors and actresses for the senior play, Mr. and Mrs. Warren C. Burnham started the rehearsals. The collective efforts of directors and cast reached their fruition on Friday evening, April 4, 1952. A capacity audience that at times became perceptibly tense watched the performance with unremitting interest and eagerly awaited the denouement.

"Crime Photographer" is a mystery-comedy in three acts. Casey and Logan with the help of Ann Williams are kept busy trying to track down the alleged slayer, Hoyt Lawrence. Uncle Sumner Powdrell, Mrs. Dorothea Powdrell, and Aunt Ione Powdrell attempt unsuccessfully to break up the romance between Glory Powdrell and Tony Marchant. Eve Dobson and Hannah Hunter at the right moments add a touch of comedy to keep the play from becoming too serious. Carla Carew and the shrewd and calculating Maria Zulenka give the play some added suspense.

INTERRUPTED MELODY
GREAT COMPOSERS

The Senior Promenade

The rustle of taffeta skirts, the fragrance of sweet smelling flowers, the sound of soft music, the picture of white dinner jackets whirling motley colored gowns around a dimly lighted ballroom, waxed and shining—if only this night, Friday, May twenty-third, 1952, might last forever! This was the night of nights, when the senior class put worries and cares aside, forgot reality, and lapsed into a magical dream of unreality.

Dancing to the enchanting music of Brad Kent in the splendor of the Longwood Towers, each boy and girl realized a dream come true, for indeed, here was Heaven on Earth. Decorated in gold, white, and black, the Towers assumed an air of dignity and aristocracy well suited to the kings and queens of Brighton's Royal Court.

The presence of Mr. and Mrs. McCabe, Mr. Leary, Mr. Kelliher, and Miss Adams added greatly to our pleasure. Although we were extremely happy, we could not help but feel a note of nostalgia creep into the atmosphere, a note which reminded us that our high school days were over, a note which brought sadness to our hearts. Many a tear fell into a cup of punch when we were forced to face the fact that we were leaving the beloved Castle on the Hill.

We shall never forget this memorable night. Every minute detail will remain always in the mind of each royal couple present at the ball—the Grand March, the novelty dances, the unique gowns, the fragrant odor of the flowers. The spark of joy and happiness kindled here on this night will never be extinguished.

Graduation Day 1952

This is Graduation Day,
A day in June . . . a day we've waited for.
This is Red-letter Day for all of us:
The day we step forward from the child's life we've known
To roads of our own choosing.

There's the class orator . . . .
She is going to speak for us.
Listen! She's got Democracy in her speech,
The Four Freedoms, and Fraternity,
Our fight for independence, and the costly task of guarding liberty.
Fine words, beautiful words. . . .
And listen! We are in her speech, too.
We are there, with those fine, beautiful words. . . .
They are part of us.

People think a lot about us nowadays. . . .
They wonder what we're going to do with life. . . .
Whether we shall lose or save the world. . . .
Whether we shall find a goal worth striving to attain. . . .
Or, lacking that, a place where we may stand
Passively, to watch Life hurrying by.
Hoping to guide us, they suggest plans for our future,
And hide their dismay that our childhood has ended so quickly,
They give their by-passed dreams to us,
A challenge to fulfill. . . .
Their baffled lives, a heritage left us to redeem.

For we are their future,
Their excuse to dream dreams. . . .
That is the way it has been, and how it will always be,
Whatever comes to us, defeat or great success.
This, then, is our Commencement, our Beginning.
It is our Graduation Day.

Class Day

Class Day, the most appealing and stirring activity of the year, will always remain secure in our treasury of memories.

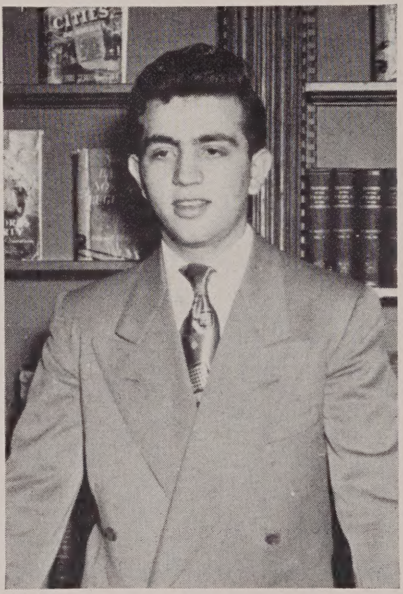
The exercises as usual, were conducted on the terrace, in the auditorium, and in the gymnasium.

Terrace

Arrayed in white, Kay Taris, symbolizing the Spirit of Brighton High School, was seated in the place of honor.

The Herald, Gino A. Marinelli, stepped forward to deliver the following address:

I. Hear Ye! Parents and Comrades! We the class of 1952 gladly welcome you on this our festive day. For three years Brighton High School has been our Alma Mater. Now we stand at the open door, ready to leave her sheltering walls for the great adventure of life. Ere we say a courageous "All Hail" to the unknown future, we pause for a sad and grateful farewell to our loved school.



II. Some of us merit special recognition for high scholastic achievement which brings them well-deserved rewards, and reflects honor on their school.

1. Let Ruth Cohen, winner of the Anna Judson George Scholarship for excellence in English receive from the Spirit of her Alma Mater the symbol of her victory.

2. Let the winners of the Brightelmstone Club Scholarships, Brita K. Holmstrom, Sondra M. Mamuchin, Marie J. Yphantes, step forward and receive the meed of their intellectual conquests from the Spirit of Brighton High School.

3. Let the Senior and Junior honor students unite in placing the laurels of their attainments at the feet of their Alma Mater.

4. We now bestow praise on a member of the Senior Class, E. Shirley Wright, who has been conspicuous during the year in promoting the Brighton High School Spirit by her interest in physical education and who has been personable, faithful, honorable, and reliable.

a. Let E. Shirley Wright come forward to receive a medal which betokens her accomplishment.

b. We also commend Eugene E. Tofanelli, a member of the Senior Class, who has distinguished himself by his work in physical education.

c. Let Eugene E. Tofanella come forward to receive a medal of his accomplishment.

5. To one school we are loyal, and in our loyalty we are united. But we are many members in one body. Our various courses give opportunity for full development of various powers.

a. Let a representative of our Co-operative Course, Cornelius Spears, appear to pay homage to our Alma Mater.

b. Let next a member of our Commercial Course, Elizabeth Tamburo, render grateful acknowledgment to her. To these two let there be joined one from our College Course, Brita K. Holmstrom, that together all three may show honor to Brighton High School and receive medals which will commemorate their high standing as scholars in whom Alma Mater may justly take pride.

III. Ere we move out into the ranks of the Alumni, we transmit to our successors certain privileges and responsibilities which we have held gladly and faithfully during our senior year. We relinquish these offices to our Junior Comrades with the hope that they may regard them as opportunities for serving the school, and, in filling them, add fresh glories to the name of Brighton High School.

1. Let the President of the Senior Class, Charles O'Mara, invest the President of the Junior Class with the insignia of his office.

2. Let the President of the Student Council, Carole Pineo, transmit to her Junior officer the symbol of her authority.

3. Let the Editor of the Towers, Ruth Cohen, pass on to her successor the tokens of her high office.

IV. Now shall the Chief Marshal, Eugene Tofanelli, escort into the presence of the Spirit, our Head Master, Joseph A. Leary, that he may receive from the Co-Editors of the Gothic, Marie Yphantes and Fred Danker, a perpetual memorial—the gift of our yearbook.

V. Let the Seniors now transmit to the Juniors the guardianship of the National Colors.

VI. Let the Seniors now march to plant the Tree which, like their hearts, will cling to the terrace of their Alma Mater. It will become an ever glorious and living symbol of the enduring loyalty of Brighton High School.

VII. Let the Class Marshals under the leadership of the Chief Marshal, Eugene Tofanelli, step forward to conduct the Class of 1952 into the Auditorium for the final exercises of this memorable Class Day.

Class Oration

Mr. Leary, Members of the Faculty, Guests, and Fellow Students:

Although in the past thirty-five years we have emerged victorious from two great wars, we are now faced with a crisis greater than any we have known before. I am not referring to the atomic bomb—potent weapon of destruction that it is—but to the far greater threat—Communism, which is spreading like a pestilence over the world. The struggle between Communism and Democracy is far reaching and frightening. There can be no compromise. We young people going into a new world must realize that fact—must be willing to fight for the maintenance of the American way of life—must be on the alert to stifle the efforts of the enemy to disrupt and destroy our government.

Without question, the greatest single force of Democracy is the American Public School. Here thousands of boys and girls of different races, color, and backgrounds live together as friends. Here is an inspiring example of Democracy at work—an example that other nations of the world can scarcely comprehend. In 1950 a German professor came to visit the Brighton High School and examine our methods of teaching. When this teacher found out that there were ten different religions and races in just one class, he did not believe it. He said that he had been led to believe that only those of pure English ancestry were in the schools of the United States.

May the lessons of tolerance and understanding that we have learned in our school help us to combat the forces that are trying to spread hate and distrust throughout our land.

My thoughts now turn to the golden memories I have had at Brighton High. Friends who have kept our secrets and have participated in our projects are leaving us. I know we shall all miss those days of studying, meeting friends in the halls, and eating in the lunch room.

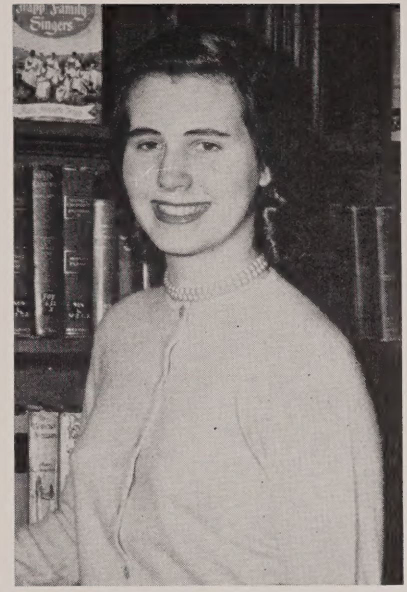
I cannot conclude this oration without expressing the gratitude we have for those who made our school days possible. To our many teachers, we, the class of "52," give our thanks for the help they have given us in preparing us for the difficult days that lie ahead.

Of course, we must not forget the most important people of all—our parents. To our parents we surely give our love for the protection they have given us through our twelve years of school. We shall never forget Mother as she cared for us night and day through those seasons when mumps, measles, or chicken pox were in fashion. Dad was always there to sign that report card, but also to give that needed dollar.

To God, we all, parents and students, give our thanks for watching over us. May His divine guidance be with us for eternity.

MARIE JOAN YPHANTES

Class History of 1952



Unbelievable though it may seem, we the class of 1952, approximately 300 strong, are about to leave these sheltering walls of our beloved Brighton High School, well prepared to travel life's royal road. Only three short years ago, we stood in clusters at the foot of the steep incline, heads bobbing up and down in an attempt to catch a glimpse of that illustrious Castle on the Hill. Once inside those revered portals, we soon became overwhelmed by a massive wave of confusion. The immediate question dominating our minds was, "Where do we go from here?" We hesitated to ask directions of the self-confident individuals whom we saw strutting about, and whom we classified as seniors, and were equally hesitant to ask the more congenial and approachable juniors. Nevertheless, after being ejected from the gym, the assembly hall, and the lunchroom, we finally reached our objective — the home room.

The ensuing year was filled with many memorable experiences. Highlighting the list of activities was the annual Talent Show, in which even sophomores were invited to participate. As usual everyone put forth his best efforts, and the show was a tremendous success.

On May 31, we witnessed the stirring and poignant Memorial Day exercises, which were held on the terrace. Never shall we forget the quiet dignity of that program.

The triumphant baseball team, harbinger of the impending summer, bestowed added fame upon the Castle on the Hill with the winning of the Boston Conference.

At last the inevitable occurred. June finally arrived. No longer were we the frustrated sophomores of last September. Eagerly we looked forward to being addressed as juniors.

In September we again climbed the alpine heights of the hill. Were we not the self-possessed and assured Juniors?

The entire school was stunned, and our lives saddened by the untimely deaths of Sheila Estabrook and Michael Tuton, classmates greatly loved by all, whose memories will remain forever steadfast in our hearts.

Any visitors to school would have thought that, as election time rolled around, paper had replaced more conventional sweaters and blouses. In many instances it even seemed that the eager candidates had sprouted tails. However, the important juniors were merely sporting streamers of colorful slogans, numbering anywhere from one to thirty. After the final vote was counted, the junior class had chosen Robert Stewart as its President; Carole Strumph, Vice-President; Virginia Minerella, Secretary; and Nancy Howard, Treasurer.

Our junior year was to end on a sorrowful note, however, when we learned that our dear friend and teacher, Miss O'Neill, was to retire. Her pleasing smile and sage counsel would be sorely missed by us all.

Summer was again beckoning to us. Books were given up somewhat reluctantly, and many of us felt a pang of remorse in departing. However, the much striven for goal was in sight, that of becoming full-fledged seniors.

For the majority of us, last summer was a busy one, spent accumulating hard earned dollars to pay the coming year's expenses. September, which brought many financial headaches, also rendered us one glorious seven letter word — SENIORS! and that we were, 100%.

No sooner were we back in the swing of things, than our faculty suffered two very heavy blows. First, Miss Stuart left us to assume a much deserved promotion, in charge of the Commercial Department at J. E. Burke High School for Girls. We all extended deepest congratulations and well wishes. Presently the welcome mat was out to Miss Whalan, who had returned to us.

Suddenly the second blow fell. Wonderful Miss Miller left our midst to become head of the French department at Girls' Latin School. Our loss was certainly Latin's gain. However, Miss Adams arrived upon the scene to fill competently Miss Miller's place.

Under the outstanding leadership of Captain Robert Murphy, 1951's football team won the much coveted District Championship. A singularly effective combination of strength and skill, the victorious eleven will go down in history as one of the best teams, if not the best team, that Brighton has ever produced.

For the first time, our Student Council, that wise group of souls with Carole Pineo at the helm, to which we take all our gripes, bought exquisite letters for the team.

Not to be forgotten was our almost equally successful basketball team, captained by Archie Hannon, which battled right down to the last bell, only to lose a heartbreaker to South Boston. If it hadn't been for ——, oh, well, "C'est la vie."

With cries of success still resounding in our ears, candidates for senior class officers once again mounted their soap boxes to deliver very lofty speeches. All the candidates were so good that it was very difficult to make a choice. However, the election returns showed Charles O'Mara to be President; William Higdon, Vice-President; Joan Smith, Secretary; and Joan Marley, Treasurer. Others who obtained honors were: Class Orator, Marie Yphantes; Executive Committee: Ruth Cohen, Marilyn Ring, and Barbara Twigg; Marshals: Eugene Tofanelli, Harry Agabedis, Barbara Cohen, Sheila Farley, Carole Magann, Carolyn McVey, Barbara Mereen, and Carole Pineo.

Last, but by no means least, all praise and profound appreciation go to our Key Club, which sold those flashy gym shirts to the boys. Congratulations to President John Holmes for the splendid job.

Time was fleeting. After weeks of rehearsals and many sacrifices on the part of the newly discovered actors and actresses, the senior drama, "Casey, Crime Photographer," was presented. Although our opinions might have been slightly biased, everyone agreed the performance was worthy of Broadway's highest praise. Surely such stars as Robert Murphy, Joan LoCascio, Thomas Cosgrove, Robert Stewart, Lillian Marino, Myra Shapiro, Ruth Cohen, Richard Tarpey, Priscilla Sawyer, Ruth Bloom, Barbara Bonick, and Anthony Oddo will long be remembered.

Suddenly May arrived upon the scene, and with it the most glorious event of Brighton's social life, the Senior Prom. The rustling sounds of silks and taffetas filled the air, as Cinderellas tripped the light fantastic with their Prince Charmings; and the melodious strains of Brad Kent's music lingered in the ears of the dancers, long after the clock struck twelve. Our heartiest thanks go to the members of the executive committee, who were responsible for the rapturous evening.

Then all too abruptly our high school career came to a close. Gone were the days of merriment, hard work, and competition. Nothing was left, save tender memories and leather-bound diplomas.

Football

Brighton High School's 1951 football team was the most outstanding one since the 1941 championship eleven. Winning six games while losing only one, and that a thriller to Boston College High School, Brighton easily captured the district crown. It was an inevitable triumph since Brighton sported such stars as Captain Bobby Murphy, Joe Berardi, Leo Brazil, Sal Cantino, Bob Siegel, Bob Barton, Tom Cosgrove, Jack Holmes, Jim O'Hara, John Long, and Tony Rizzacassa.

Ably assisted by Mr. McCabe, Coach Murphy led the group in long practice sessions six days a week. The tremendous success of the squad was achieved only by the constant conditioning of the boys by means of calisthenics and scrub games.

With most of the starting varsity graduating, our coaches hope that next year's squad will be able to retain the trophy won by the 1951 team during the past season.

ROBERT MURPHY, Captain

First row: J. Cugini, C. McVey, B. Mereen, C. Perry, M. Hamill
Second row C. Strumph, C. Pineo, B. Twigg, N. Howard, J. LoCascio, J. McVey

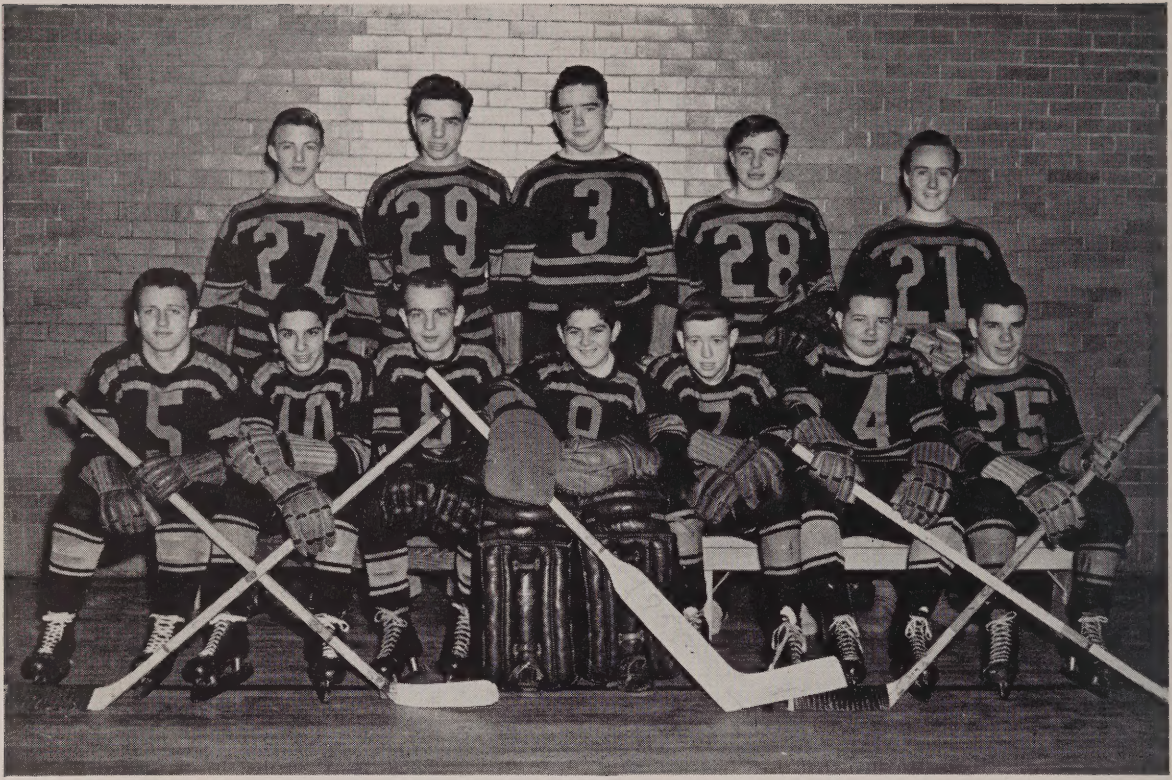
Cheerleaders

The cheerleaders for 1951-1952 were Captain Barbara Mereen, Joanne Cugini, Marion Hamill, Nancy Howard, Joan LoCascio, Carolyn McVey, Camren Perry, Carole Strumph, Barbara Twigg, and the junior cheerleader and next year's captain, Joan McVey.

Clad in the traditional orange and black, they appeared at all the football games to spur our boys on to victory.

Utilizing an effective cheering technique developed by faithful and arduous practice, they evoked enthusiastic cheers and applause from the Brighton High School supporters.

To them is due the greatest praise for their successful efforts to foster school spirit.



First row: A. Rizzacassa, J. Cicconi, P. Cedrone, R. Tarpey, W. Murray, R. Gladu, E. Tofanelli.
Second row: R. Kavey, T. Spiro, Captain Townsend, R. Shea, B. Cropper.

Hockey

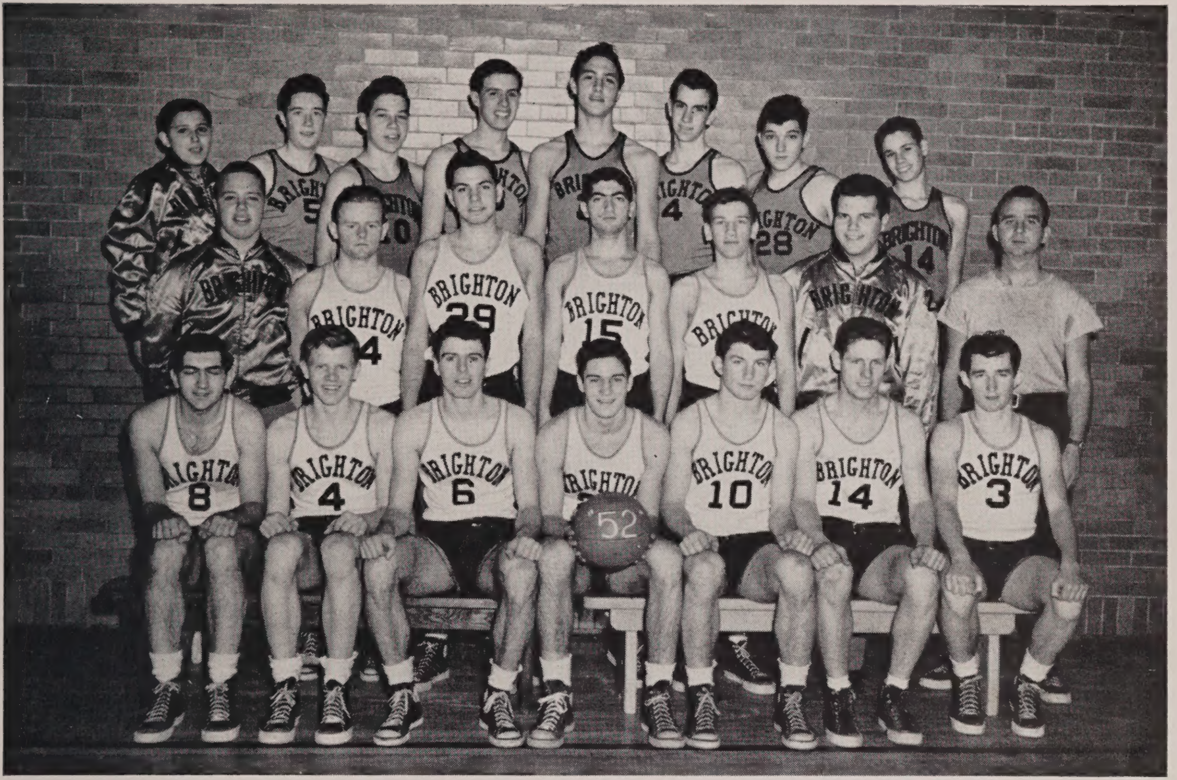
This year the team was set up very well by the return of several lettermen of the '51 squad. Under the guidance of Coach Burnham the squad began practice on the first of December. Practice was then shifted to Chandler's Pond as the weather got colder. Several practices were scheduled during the Christmas vacation at the Boston Arena.

The cooperation and team spirit which all Brighton teams show were responsible for the success of the team. The squad had high hopes and by hard work brought these hopes to reality.

The returning lettermen were John Cicconi, Carl Cohen, Bruce Cropper, Rudy Gladu, Harry Jenkins, Tony Rizzacassa, Bobby Shea, and Captain Dana Townsend. These veterans, combined with the up and coming sophomores, gave Brighton a well balanced squad.

To the hockey teams that will represent our high school in the future, we extend our best wishes for success in the coming years. To Mr. Burnham we give our thanks for the sportsmanship and fair play that he instilled in us through the season.

GERALD D. DESMOND, Manager



First row: M. Ward, J. Buckley, P. Jansky, Captain Hannon, J. Long, A. Hartung, J. O'Hara.

Second row: F. Greenblott, J. Owens, M. Baer, R. Kapilian, A. Kroner, H. Grace, Mr. McCabe.

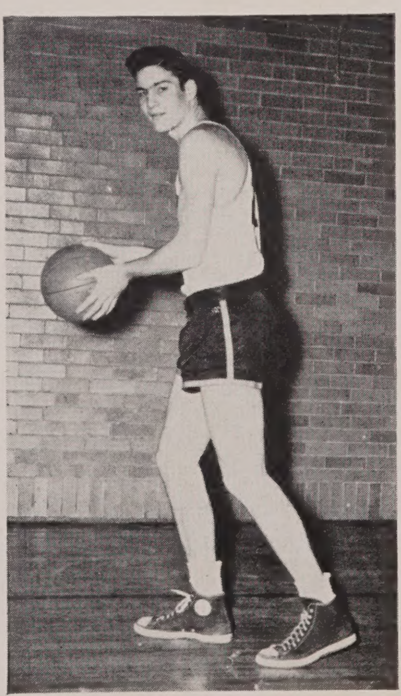
Third row: M. Rozman, J. McHugh, J. Dannis, W. Foley, R. Mueller, J. Hickey, F. Lewis, D. Desmond.

Basketball

The Brighton High School hoopsters completed one of the most successful seasons here at the "Castle on the Hill." Included in a three way tie for District honors at the close of the season, the team lost by only two points the play-off game, a heart-breaker, to South Boston. Being good sports, however, the quintet took the loss philosophically and congratulated the victors.

Practicing every day into the early hours of the evening was a major factor in developing the skill that produced so many victories. All the members of the squad wish to thank Mr. McCabe for his untiring efforts in producing a great ball club.

Outstanding stars of this year's squad were Captain Archie Hannon, Art Hartung, Mendy Ward, John Buckley, Paul Jansky, Jim O'Mara, Bill Dunderdale, John Long, Red Owens, Mel Baer, and sophomore Ronny Mueller.



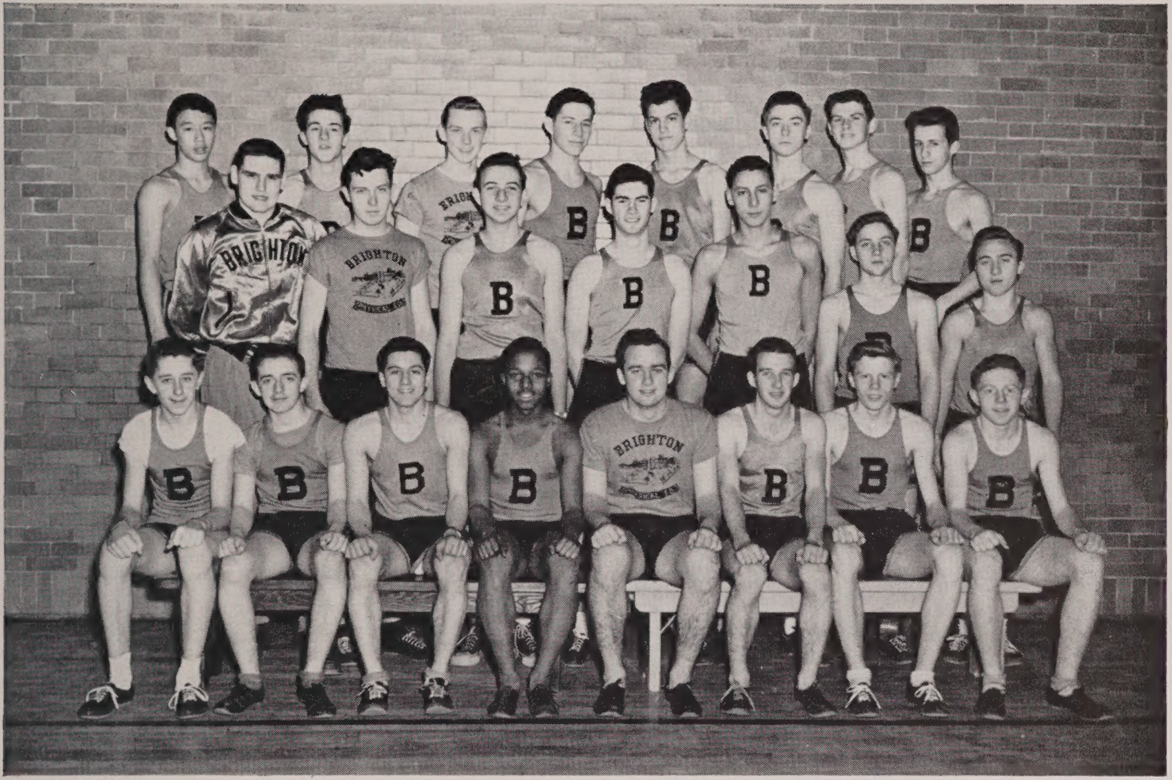
ARTHUR HANNON, Captain

First row: R. Gladu, J. Long, W. Dunderdale, J. O'Hara, A. Hartung, R. Murphy, C. Cohen, M. Baer.
Second row: D. Riseman, A. Rizzacassa, R. Kapilian, T. Cosgrove, J. Twombley, R. Hickey, F. Lewis, W. Murray.

Baseball

Under the inspiring leadership of Captain Jim O'Hara, our baseball team emerged as one of the greatest since the addition of baseball to the Brighton High School program. Returning veterans of last season provided a strong nucleus of experience and confidence. As the season progressed, gradually there emerged such outstanding diamond stars as Art Hartung, Bill Blackshaw, Mel Baer, "Zing-Zing" Capilian, Carl Cohen, Tony Rizzacassa, Bob Murphy, and Captain Jim O'Hara.

Congratulations to Coach Murphy for his skillful guidance that led the team to victory!



First row: T. Locklin, L. Doucette, N. Damiano, A. Nelson, Captain Cosgrove, T. Norris, R. Smith, R. Lombardi.

Second row: R. Siegel, J. Coggins, I. Kardonsky, M. Tucker, F. Tramontozzi, Mosher, A. DiLorenzo.

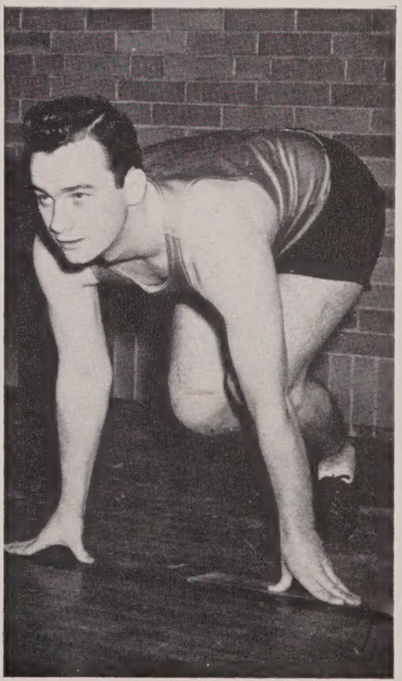
Third row: D. Chin, C. Tsacoyeanes, W. Carroll, R. Kushner, T. Linnane, R. Mercante, W. Hurley, R. McDonnell.

Track

Brighton High's Track squad reported early in December. The outstanding veterans were Jackie Holmes in the dash and shot-put, and Bob Siegel in the shot-put; both of these boys are members of the Senior Class. The following veterans, members of the Junior Class, were Tony DiLorenzo, Gene Rita, and Don Moccia.

Although the squad was not as large as in other years, nevertheless, the team made a very creditable showing. The work of Holmes and Siegel was outstanding.

We hope that in another year more students will realize that Track offers an opportunity to help carry the colors of Brighton High School before the eyes of the public. Brighton will continue to produce a Championship Team if more boys report for Track.



CAPTAIN THOMAS J. COSGROVE

First row: J. McInnis, B. Millar, E. Meizler, A. Bretschneider, S. Wright, R. Kallmes, M. Wegman, M. Patterson, L. Marino.

Girls' Basketball

Every Monday afternoon in the gym the Girls' Basketball Team met for practice and competition. Intramural games provided zip and zest with the seniors emerging victors.

Best of luck to future teams!

First row: A. Bretschneider, L. Marino, R. Kallmes, M. Wegman, B. Millar, R. Cohen, M. Patterson, S. Wright.

Tennis

During the spring season Ringer Playground was the scene of great tennis activity. At the call to action each girl with great skill practiced her serve, her forehand and backhand drives.

At the end of the season the members were ready for summer tournaments.

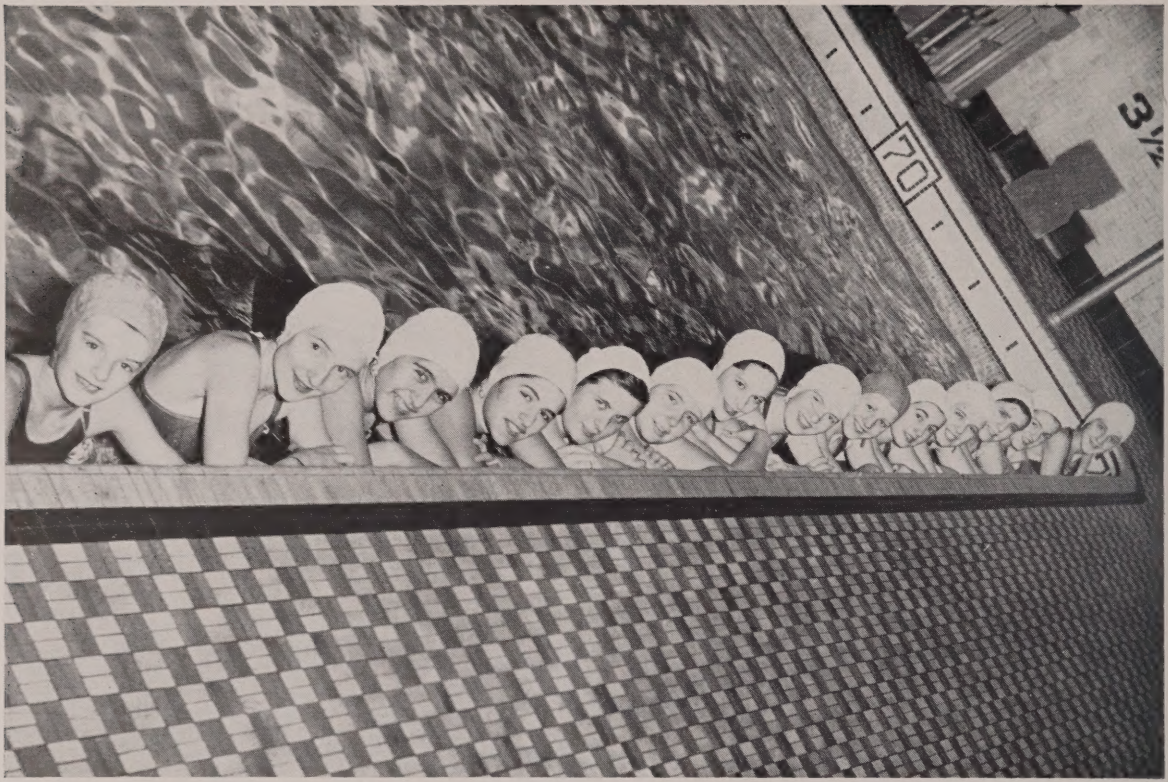
Third row: M. Cuneo, T. Wilkinson, J. Pennell, C. Brady, M. Evans, H. Chaffis, J. Flanagan, J. Downey, B. Yarkin.

Softball

The arrival of Spring heralded the resumption of softball at Brighton High School. At frequent practice sessions the girls learned the fundamentals of the game and usually developed such skill that every game was replete with thrills. Intramural contests fostered a healthy rivalry that developed good sportsmanship.

As the all too short season came to an end, the players expressed their thanks to Miss Blagdon for the hours of healthful recreation that her interest and skillful guidance afforded them.



Swimming

Every Wednesday for ten weeks the Girls' Swimming Club met at the Y.W.C.A. pool. The members were fortunate to receive special instruction from representatives of the Red Cross. The swimmers were divided into three classes: beginners, intermediates, and advanced.

At the end of the course all girls qualifying received a Red Cross Certificate in swimming.

Talent Show

Under the auspices of the Student Council the annual Brighton High School Talent Show was staged in the auditorium on Friday evening, January 18, 1952, and the sneak preview for the students was held the preceding Thursday afternoon. Under the capable supervision of Miss Wilson, Mr. Burke, and able master of ceremonies, Gerald Desmond, plus the full cooperation of the students, both the participants and those who willingly helped to paint scenery and hand out programs, the show was an overwhelming success as witnessed by the capacity audience and high praise bestowed by them. There were thirty-five varied acts, all very entertaining, including dance lines, voice and instrumental solos, comedy skits, and music by Brighton's renowned jazz band. The Brighton High School Talent Show of 1952 will always be a remembered incident, especially to us, the class of "52." May the future Talent Shows be as successful!

Class Prophecy of the Class of 1952

At the palatial estate of Paul Boriello, multi-millionaire lollipop manufacturer, the Class of 1952 is having its tenth reunion. As we glance around the room looking at the old familiar faces, we see, garbed in trim United States Naval Uniforms, Carole Magann, Nancy Howard, Sheila Farley, and Jeannette Malcuit escorted by Herbert Grace, Charles Koppana, Robert Greenland and Edmund Chambers who recently have been awarded the rating of Chief Petty Officer. Charming the passengers who ride the airways, Carole Strumph, Lucy Scholsburg, and Barbara Salvucci are chatting gaily with pilots Gene Toffanelli and Charlie O'Mara. President and Vice-President of the new United States, Stanley Koffman and Lawrence Siskind, respectively, are being guarded by F.B.I. agent Marie Yphantes. Bobby Murphy, the world's middleweight champion, and Archie Hannon, Jim O'Hara, and Art Hartung of the Boston Celtics are conversing animatedly with Leo Brazil, Jackie Holmes, Bob Seigel, and Sal Cantino, all of whom are now with the Chicago Bears. Glamorous Ruthie Cohen and Joan LoCascio, Hollywood stars of Vienneau, Sorrentino Studios, drive up with Adrienne Sookian in her pink Cadillac convertible. Busily serving refreshments to the crowd, we see the little maid Jacquelyn Lisker and butler Richard Tarpey. Among our distinguished guests are Sondra Mamuchin, Myra Wegman, and Marie LaSalle, who have been recently elected to the Senate. Another glance around the room finds the smiling faces of Myra Shapiro, Trudy Geller, Naomi Berlin, Marvin Ward, Fred Greenblott, and Murton Garfinkel listening attentively to humorous accounts of domestic trials as related by Marcia Androlot and Nancy Anderson, both recent brides. Seen sitting to one side are Eleanor Zissi, Anne Kapelos and John O'Leary discussing Margaret Hall and Suzanne Jardine's stirring novel "The Merle Droll Story."

On the dance floor, Marion Febo and her escort are waltzing to the music of Jim McElhenny's band. Marion's dress, a Joan Waldman creation, evokes sighs of envy from feminine observers. Mary Patterson and Alfred Sansevero, Nancy Dennehy and Bob Crowell, Camren Perry and Paul Jansky, Dorothy Long and Gerry Desmond make a charming sight as they glide across the floor. As the lights dim, we see in the spotlight the famous recording stars of DeLacy-Cicconi Records, "The Oh Mama Mia Trio," Tony Mastrobattista, Louie Marsolini, and Rudy Clerico singing "Undecided." Next the ever famous comediennes Barbara Twigg and Joan Smith convulse the audience with mirth. Sylvia Karol, renowned operatic soprano, renders the famous aria from Patsy La Gambina's latest opera. Also on the program are Townsend models from New York, Marion Hamill, Charlotte Wickman, and Edith Pellegrini wearing furs designed by Kay LaMachia. As always in any social gathering Society arrives late. All eyes are focused toward the doors when Tony Gaeta, Vincent Pollicelli and Joe Ciampi, owners of the Boston Cadillac Company enter noisily. From the nationally known TV Studio, Fred Danker, Gino Marinelli, and Tom Cosgrove, the owners of Station WHY, burst into the room full of enthusiasm over their latest show, "Roy Logan, F.B.I. Agent," featuring Helen Yokell, Carole Walker, Ruth Bloom, Philip Sullivan, Sheldon Schlager and Stuart Tobias. "Dorian's Dancing and Singing Troupe" appears, and all are glad to see Bob Dunderdale who first won fame with his splendid version of "Anytime." With him are Kay Taris and Marie McCarthy, who recently finished a successful engagement at "Mel Baer's Show Bar." Margaret Colleran and Dorothy Wilson come in, with a glowing account of the scintillating performance of Mary Lou Halleran and Richard Bennett whose renditions of "Carmen" have filled the Opera House with music lovers. Loretta Minerella, Lois McElhenny, Mary Scardino, Virginia Minerella, and Mary Tempesta joyfully proclaimed that they were detained at Anne DeMattia and Pat Haley's elaborate Night Club. With them are Nancy Henry and Marie Hart, Society Editors of the All-Bright Times, which will devote its whole first page to the spectacular reunion of the class of "52."
